'Rebuilding Together Houston' lending a hand to flood victims

For 35 years, Rebuilding Together Houston has supported disaster recovery by working with our partner organizations and volunteer teams to repair the homes of our neighbors in need throughout Harris County. After Hurricane Harvey, once again, we are here for the long haul. We are working with new partners and our established relationships -- the City of Houston, key disaster organizations, and the national Rebuilding Together network -- and are engaged in a multi-tiered approach to serve in both relief and recovery efforts.

We are currently evaluating resources, coordinating with our partners, and organizing a multi-layered volunteer effort to serve our neighbors in most need.
